Bibliographies in the Quick Bibliography Series of the National Agricultural Library, are intended primarily for current awareness, and as the title of the series implies, are not indepth exhaustive bibliographies on any given subject. However, the citations are a substantial resource for recent investigations on a given topic. They also serve the purpose of bringing the literature of agriculture to the interested user who, in many cases, could not access it by any other means. The bibliographies are derived from computerized on-line searches of the AGRICOLA data base. Timeliness of topic and evidence of extensive interest are the selection criteria.

The author/searcher determines the purpose, length, and search strategy of the Quick Bibliography. Information regarding these is available upon request from the author/searcher.

Copies of this bibliography may be made or used for distribution without prior approval. The inclusion or omission of a particular publication or citation may not be construed as endorsement or disapproval.

To request a copy of a bibliography in this series, send the title, series number and self-addressed gummed label to:

Abstract: Ethnic food traditions that comply with the trend toward simpler and lighter eating are discussed and illustrated. In Italian restaurants smaller (but richer) dishes are being promoted (a recipe is offered). French food, "nouvelle cuisine" or "less for more," features less cream sauces; fresh ingredients are emphasized (e.g., vegetables served al dente). Seasonings and sauces now enhance, not overpower, the food. American cuisine (steeped in ethnic cultures), as cooking and creativity, began only about 3-4 years ago. Three American dishes with a lighter touch are presented (e.g., cajun style shrimp). (kbc)
